

Become a Diamond Collective Ambassador

At the Diamond Collective, we believe the real difference happens when people are truly invested in what we are doing. As an Ambassador, you become part of a community of people who genuinely care about giving young athletes access to baseball, mentorship, and real opportunity. We would love to have you with us.

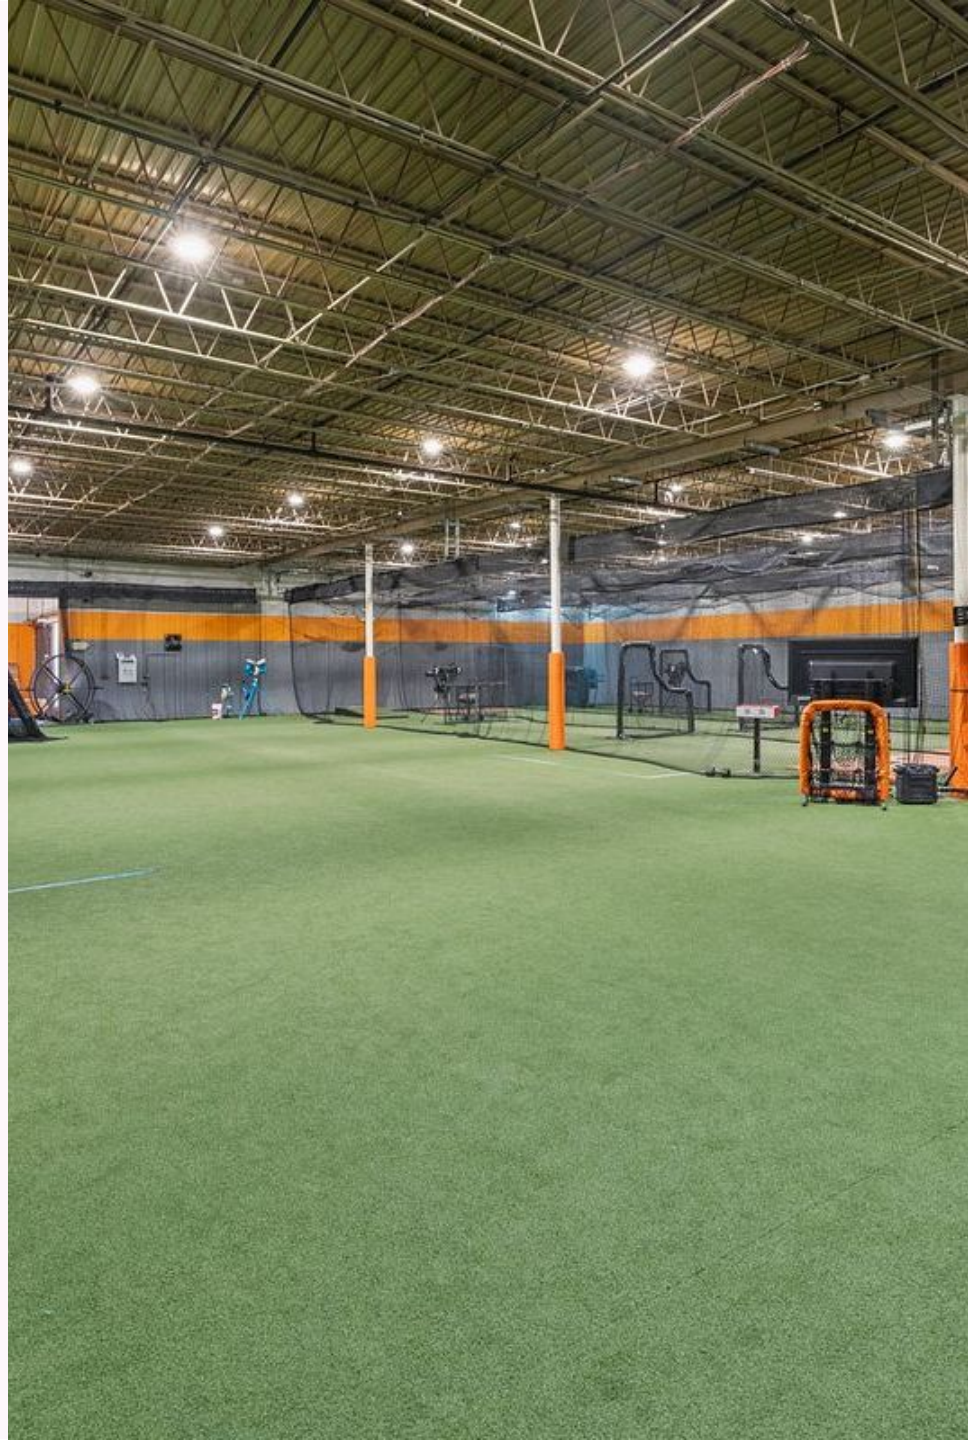

More Than a Membership

Traditional Membership

For those who want access to our 20,000 square foot training and community facility, we offer a standard membership at $150 per month. You get full use of the space and everything it has to offer, which is a great fit for anyone who just wants to come in and train.

Diamond Collective Ambassador

Ambassadors get the same membership benefits as everyone else, but with a chance to do something that really matters. When you share our story with the people you know, you help open doors for young people in our community who need it most.

What Is a Diamond Collective Ambassador?

A Diamond Collective Ambassador is someone who genuinely believes that every young person deserves a real shot — at baseball, at education, and at life. It's about showing up for kids in your community and helping open doors that might otherwise stay closed.

1

Share the Story

Rather than just paying a monthly fee, Ambassadors take it a step further by telling people about our mission. You become a voice for the program in your personal and professional circles, and that word of mouth matters more than you might think.

2

Personalized Fundraising Page

Every Ambassador gets their own custom fundraising page so it's simple for friends, family, coworkers, and local businesses to chip in and support the kids directly.

3

$1,500 Annual Goal

We ask each Ambassador to aim for raising at least $1,500 a year. That's enough to sponsor one BUBA Scholar or cover a full year of membership. Plenty of Ambassadors go well beyond that, and the difference it makes is real.

A membership gives you access.
An Ambassador creates access for others.

Support the Collective — or Champion a Cause You Love

As a Diamond Collective Ambassador, you get to decide where your fundraising goes. Some people feel called to support the whole organization. Others have a specific nonprofit close to their heart. Either way, your efforts make a real difference for the young people and communities we serve.

Diamond Collective Ambassador

Support the Collective as a whole and help strengthen the shared programs, spaces, and resources that every nonprofit in our community relies on to do their best work.

Individual Nonprofit Ambassador

Already have a favorite organization? Become an Ambassador specifically for them and direct every dollar you raise toward the cause you care about most.

Whichever path you choose, you become part of something bigger: a community of people working together to create lasting change for the next generation.

Organizations Within the Diamond Collective

The Diamond Collective is home to several incredible nonprofits that share our facility and serve our community in meaningful ways. Each one has its own mission and story, but they all believe in the same thing: that baseball and softball can be powerful tools for helping young people grow, keeping families connected, and making communities stronger.

BUBA Baseball

Giving young athletes real opportunities to grow through elite baseball training, scholarships, and mentorship from people who genuinely care about their futures.

Oriole Advocates

Focused on community impact through scholarships, donations, and events dedicated to lifting up youth of all ages and abilities—all while sharing a love of baseball and the Baltimore Orioles.

Tony Gwynn Legacy East Foundation

Keeping Tony Gwynn's spirit alive by giving young people the tools, encouragement, and belief they need to chase excellence in everything they do.

Jackson Merrill Foundation

Focused on the whole person, this foundation supports youth wellness, builds leaders, and creates opportunities rooted in genuine care for the community.

Baseball 4 Causes

Connecting the baseball community to meaningful causes, helping organizations raise funds and awareness through the sport we all love.

Why Become a Diamond Collective Ambassador?

An Ambassador doesn't just write a check — they become part of the mission. Here's what your commitment means for the youth and families we serve:

Turn Your Membership Into Something More

Instead of paying a monthly fee, you're putting that money toward real opportunities for young people in your community who need them most.

Fund Scholarships and Real Programs

Your support helps cover scholarships, mentorship, and life skills training for youth who couldn't participate otherwise.

Help Nonprofits Stay Strong

The organizations we partner with rely on people like you to keep doing their work. Your involvement helps them grow and stay rooted in the community.

Bring the People You Know Into It

Share this with your friends, family, and coworkers. You'd be surprised how many people are looking for a way to give back to something meaningful.

Show That One Person Can Make a Difference

When you show up for this mission, you're proving that generosity between real people can lead to genuine, lasting change for a whole community.

How the Ambassador Journey Works

Becoming a Diamond Collective Ambassador is straightforward, and the impact starts the moment you begin sharing with the people around you. Here's what the process looks like:

Whether you raise $1,500 or $15,000, every dollar you bring in through your network creates real opportunity for young people in our community. The more you share, the more lives you help shape.

Join the Movement

A traditional membership gives you access to an incredible facility. A Diamond Collective Ambassador helps create that same access for others, opening doors to education, mentorship, and real opportunity for young people who need it most.

> "Together, we create access. Together, we change lives."

Whether you choose to support the Diamond Collective as a whole or get behind one of our wonderful nonprofit partners, your efforts will reach far beyond the baseball field. You'll be part of a growing community of people using their relationships, connections, and generosity to invest in the next generation.

Ready to Join?

Reach out today to get your personalized Ambassador fundraising page set up. It's a simple first step that can make a real difference for kids in our community.

Spread the Word

Share this with friends, colleagues, and businesses who care about young people and want to see our community grow stronger together.

Make Your Mark

Set a fundraising goal that feels right for you, whether that's $1,500 or more, and be part of something that genuinely changes lives.